

VINTAGE WILDFLOWERS FAST FACTS

"Theirs is a full and rich sound that can fill a concert hall with song and three-part harmonies or, if they choose, make a tune resonate softly to float on the air over a coffee-house audience." - Marie Gullard, Washington Examiner

"One of the nicest traditional CDs I have ever heard from North America." - John Willmott of Celticways

"...these women will be delighting audiences in Oklahoma and the Southwest for a long time to come." - Chuck Bloom - Vintage Wildflowers CD review for Ceili Magazine

MUSICIANS/INSTRUMENTS:

Abby Bozarth – fiddle, mandolin, guitar, harmony vocals; Dana Fitzgerald Maher – Celtic harp, harmony vocals; Melissa Schiavone – lead vocals, Irish flute/whistle, banjo, whistle

HOMEBASE: Tulsa, Oklahoma, USA

BRIEF BIO:

Acclaimed for their instrumental prowess, onstage charm and soulful vocals, Vintage Wildflowers' performances "declare both their respect for traditional music and their desire to create a style completely their own". Their music is a reflection of the musical lives and backgrounds of these three women, melding the trio's wide-ranging musical interests with their Celtic music obsession.

NOTABLE PERFORMANCES:

Woodsongs Old-Time Radio Hour, Lexington, KY; Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, DC; Customs House Museum, Clarksville, TN; St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, Memphis, TN; North Texas Irish Festival, Dallas, TX; Acoustic Oklahoma Recording Project, Oklahoma City, OK; Tulsa Performing Arts Center Summerstage Festival, Tulsa, OK; Oklahoma City Festival for the Arts, Oklahoma City, OK

TEACHING: Dana Maher is available to conduct Celtic harp workshops and group lessons.

DISCOGRAPHY: March 2010 – "The Upstairs Sessions" March 2011 – "Lovely Madness"

AIRPLAY:

Celtic Roots Radio – Belfast, Ireland; Celtica Radio – Wales; NPR Shows – Funk Roots Radio (AK); Celtic Connections Radio (Ill); Folk Salad (OK); Folk Sampler (AR); WoodSongs Old-Time Radio Hour affiliates – worldwide

AWARDS: Summer 2011 – Best of Tulsa Bands, Greater Tulsa Reporter Newspaper

WEBSITE: www.vintagewildflowers.com BOOKING: Dana@vintagewildflowers.com (918) 852-0299